Bragi’s The Dash wins CES Best of Innovation Award 2015

New York, NY., November 11, 2014 – Munich-based Bragi, announced today that its wireless headphones The Dash won the International Consumer Electronics Show (CES) 2015 Innovation Award BEST OF INNOVATION in the Headphones product category. CES is the world’s largest consumer technology tradeshow held by the Consumer Electronics Association® (CEA) every year.

The Jury recognized that The Dash represents the most impressive technology in the headphone category. Products entered in the CES Innovations program are judged by a preeminent panel of independent industrial designers, engineers, and members of the media to honor outstanding design and engineering in cutting-edge consumer electronics products across 29 categories.

“We are over the moon with the response that we have been receiving” says Nikolaj Hviid, Founder and CEO, Bragi GmbH. “The competition here is very tough but we continue to create a lot of market attention for our groundbreaking product The Dash. We are honored that CEA and the industry recognize our vision of wearable technologies, and we look forward to sharing our great product innovation at the 2015 International CES.”

Bragi’s award-winning product The Dash will be on display during the 2015 International CES in Las Vegas, which runs January 6-9, 2015, in the Eureka Park Area, in Sands Expo - Halls A-C. The Dash will also be displayed at CES Unveiled: The Official Media Event of the International CES from 4-7 p.m. on Sunday, January 4 in the South Seas Ballroom C at Mandalay Bay.
